

Instructions for making White Cockades

Take two pieces of white grosgrain ribbon of any width from half inch to an inch cut in seven inch lengths with the ends cut on the bias so it makes a swallow tail when they are folded over. Put two together to make a St Andrew's cross and stitch in the middle.

These can be done while watching TV! They are a great give-away at the tent. People really like getting them and put them right on. It makes people feel identified with Clan MacLaren right away.
